

Snapshot

Purpose:

The idea of this exercise is to break the ice in a big group.

Instruction:

1. Have every participant draw a self-portrait and come up with a nickname
2. Ask them to write down something curious about themselves somewhere around the portrait
3. Hang the drawings on the wall and have participants look at each other, if they have a remark or question about one of the drawings: let them ask
4. The goal is to boost communication within the group (and eventually to find out which participant draw the self-portrait)

Timeframe: 20 min

Group-size: unlimited

Age groups: all age groups

Materials:

- Sticky notes or index cards
- (coloured) pens
- or a 3D-printer with doodle
- timer/watch

Source: eduCentrum vzw

This project has received funding from the European Union's Horizon 2020 research and innovation programme under grant agreement No 770063

CC BY 4.0 (<https://creativecommons.org/licenses/by/4.0>)
DOIT – <http://DOIT-Europe.net>
H2020-770063